

Advice for Our Children, Circa 2012

Guest post by Karen Kwiatkowski.

If liberty is the natural orientation of mankind, then we can trust that our children and grandchildren will turn to that light, seek the warmth of freedom, and always resent their chains. I hope our children will innately remember liberty, and somehow understand that it is indeed their birthright.

Read the full thing »