

Derailed!

It's interesting, and not in a good way, how easy it seems for some people to veer Left or Right. Perhaps even for most people.

Some people who I used to believe had their heads on straight, got bogged down in the Social Justice Wanker agenda. So much for them.

Others went off on the alt-right crazy train with the election of Trump. Oops. Have fun with that.

Some have cobbled together some freakish Frankensteinian monster combining the worst of both! Yes, it's as scary as it sounds!

To resist going off-track must be harder than I thought. That makes me sad.
