

Didn't Vote? No Right to Complain!

If you have ever expressed disappointment or frustration with the electoral process, you have probably had this condemnation thrown at you at some point: "Well, if you don't vote, then you have no right to complain!"

Those who have said this to me have probably taken my dumbfounded silence as a sign of my awed respect for the light they brought into my life. The truth is that I am dumbfounded by what an absurdly and patently idiotic statement it is, and there isn't much I would be able to tell a person who believes it.
