

Economics is a Science!

Nobody asked but ...

Economics is a science! It is a science that comports with natural law. It is just that none of the economists can isolate factors long enough to get a repeatable observation. It is open-ended like climatology and cosmology.

Kilgore