

It's a Favor to be Excluded from the Military

Of all the things that people could complain about when it comes to discrimination, it seems to me that not being allowed to be an unthinking mercenary (and/or cannon fodder) for some of the vilest people on the planet ... is not exactly the worst thing that could happen to someone. So do I care that the Orange Fuhrer banned transsexuals from joining the military? Not in the slightest. It is a favor (even though that obviously wasn't Trump's motivation), not a punishment, to be excluded from a gang of people who have been trained to be inhuman monsters. Now if only everyone e/se could be kept out of the military, the world would benefit greatly.
