

“Human Trafficking”– the “People Trade”

This recent focus on “human trafficking” is ignoring the biggest offender: government. This means the activists aren’t serious.

Who can possibly “traffic” even a tiny fraction of the humans that government does? Without trafficking- trading— people back and forth for money, government would lose much of its power and purpose.

Just the prison bureaucracy alone trades in more people than all the freelance slavers combined. And yet this is supposed to be OK? It’s not OK with me.

End “human trafficking”; abolish the prison industry.
