

I Am Not a Sitting Duck

Does having a gun with you in the event of an attack guarantee survival? Of course not. Nothing can. But it doesn't matter.

I'd rather have a fighting chance than be a sitting duck. Even if I don't survive. I'd rather go out fighting for my life than cowering in fear.

At least do the decent thing and don't get in my way with "laws" and other nonsense.
