

Nationalism, Globalism, Slavery, Death

Isn't it strange that nationalists consider the desire to see everyone free of political bullies to be "globalism"?

I guess it shows where their alliances lie: Against liberty and humanity.

I'm against archators, whether they are freelance or "authorized," local or foreign, "nice" or cruel. Your favorite archators are just as bad as those you hate. I'll never embrace the archators you want to impose on me, no matter where they are based- if they have a base.
