

Rulers Don't Give Two Shits About You

How long will it take people to figure this out? When authoritarian powers are huffing and puffing at each other and preparing for war, it is because both sets of tyrannical control freaks—the ruling classes of BOTH countries—need their OWN subjects to be scared, so that the slaves on both sides feel loyalty to their supposed savior rulers. Never, ever, ever, ever, is it because either ruling class gives a shit about their “own” people (except to the extent of keeping enough of their slaves alive to preserve their own parasitic existence).

The Orange Fuhrer doesn't give two shits about you, any more than Kim Jong-Douchebag gives a shit about the people of North Korea. They are narcissistic megalomaniacs playing a game—a game of oppression, terror and possibly mass murder—at the expense of the people of both countries. Kim and Donald are on the same damn side. The only “us versus them” that matters is aggressors (which includes every “government”) versus their intended victims. If you cheer for Trump to save you from North Korea, you're just one more useful idiot empowering and enabling your own abuser.
