

Smoking at the Skunk Works

Nobody asked but ...

What possible difference could it make that Musk and Zuckerberg don't see eye to eye on artificial intelligence? Their repartee has plenty of artificiality and no intelligence. Has there been a news flash that I missed? Has humankind ever successfully regulated anything? Do tell. Markets? Religion? Freedom? Weather? Come on boys, for you are wound too tight for your own good. AI will eventuate much as probability will have it, the opinions of Zuckerberg and/or Musk notwithstanding.
