

A Positive View of Slavery

The most shocking fact in American history:

“The majority of freed slaves had a positive
view of the institution of slavery, and many unabashedly wished to return to slavery.”<sup>1</sup>

Why? Because they had come to view the slavemaster as the provider of free services, stability, and security.
Born into slavery, they could not easily imagine a life of freedom.

Now think about the assumptions
you were born into.

<sup>1</sup> Sources: Paraphrasing of Columbia University historian Thaddeus Russell, quantitative analysis of WPA interviews with 2300 ex-slaves found in Slavery: Remembered: A Record of Twentieth-Century Slave Narratives (1979) by Paul Escott. Transcripts of the ex-slave interviews can be found in George Piewick's The American Slave (1972) and online at international.gc.gov. See also A Pioneered History of the United States (2010) by Russell.