

Anarchy Is!

Nobody asked but ...

There is only one miniscule scenario in the universe, that we know of, where there is pushback against anarchy. The very lowest population of mammals on Earth is primates, and only a fraction of them can even conceive of constructed laws. Mammals are the least populace (with the possible exception of marsupials) of all life forms on Earth. Earth is hardly even detectable anywhere else in the Universe. I'd say anarchy ftw!
