

Anti-Gun Bullies are Natural

Anti-gun politicians, bureaucrats, and law-imposer thugs are the natural course of things. They are all anti-gun in reality.

Even the ones who claim to be “pro-gun” and get “A+” endorsements from the “gun rights” groups (which invariably love statism more than liberty) are anti-gun.

If they believe there should be even one “law” concerning gun ownership or possession, they are anti-gun.

If they believe the right to own and to carry a gun depends on “citizenship” or some other statist concept, they are anti-gun.

If they believe someone can lose their right to own and to carry a gun, they are anti-gun.

If they believe the Second Amendment gives anyone a right to “keep and bear arms,” they are anti-gun.

If they believe the kind of gun makes any difference, they are anti-gun.

If they insist on guns being banned from the Mundanes in their presence, they are anti-gun.

At it's heart, “anti-gun” really means anti-liberty. They are anti-liberty bigots.
