

Buffaloed

Nobody asked but ...

Will we evolve at a faster pace than our primary opposites? So far yes. The intelligent are making a better life for themselves. The populist politicians are parasites, as are the electorate who fall for the scams. If the individuals survive and prevail, there will develop ways of effectively reducing the parasite plague. If the parasites take over, we are headed for extinction, imho.

— Kilgore Forelle