

Casus Belli II

Nobody asked but ...

When you encounter a war lover, ask them what is the worst human depravity. When they name one, point out that war creates more of what they detest, then ask them how they can support war knowing that is the case.

— Kilgore Forelle