

Editor on Unpaid Sabbatical

I must apologize for my column absence the last two weeks. I recently resigned from my job quality testing software and have yet to decide what I want to do going forward. Most of my time has been spent on LargePrintLiberty.com and other publications expansion. And when I'm not slogging through that I'm enjoying time with my young family. Hobbies like writing, blogging, and podcasting are on the back-burner for the time being. A million pardons I beg! (Since that's how many readers EVC has. ^_^)

Skyler.
