

Empowerment, Economic Growth, Gun Policy Costs, & Antinatalism (32m) - Episode 359

Episode 359 has Skyler giving his commentary on the following topics: why empowerment is not telling people that they are helpless to do anything for themselves and must wait for others to act first; the importance of secure property rights to economic growth; why it's muddy metaphorical thinking to claim that homicides, suicides, et cetera, are "costs" of loose gun policy; a couple of points against antinatalist philosophy; and more.
