

For One Purpose Only

Sorry for stating the bleeding obvious here, but since most of the country still doesn't seem to understand this, I'm going to.

All of the resources, all of the hired thugs, all of the weapons, all of the surveillance technology, all of the checkpoints and searches, all of the "legal" powers the state has to spy on you, track you, disarm you, monitor you, register you, question you, tax you, regulate you, and all of the additional "legal" powers they keep "asking" for, and keep giving themselves—all of it exists for one purpose, and one purpose only: to protect the state from potential dissenters and resisters, including you.

None of it was ever about protecting you from anything.

Have a nice day.
