

Houston, TX (Continuing)

Nobody asked but ...

This is a catastrophe. This is a disaster. This is the greatest amount of rain ever recorded in a locale in the history of meteorology. How can POTUS say, "We want to do it better than ever before"? Dams are about to burst! Doesn't POTUS understand that what is happening is beyond his prodigious capacity for self-deception? It's not about politicians and their grandiose claims. Can't this fool address reality every once in a while? It is a catastrophe. It is a disaster. And it still will be no matter how many times POTUS waves his magic tongue. Better than what?

— Kilgore Forelle