

How Government 'Works'

Written by Bill Bonner for LewRockwell.com.

There are many theories to explain government. Most are nothing but scams, justifications, and puffery. One tries to put something over on the common man...the other claims it was for his own good...and the third pretends that he'd be lost without it. Most are not really 'theories' at all...but prescriptions, blueprints for creating the kind of government the 'theorist' would like to have. Not surprisingly, the blueprints flatter his intellect and engage his imagination.

Read the full thing »