

More on Bullies

Nobody asked but ...

I couldn't agree with you more, Skyler, in your blog "On Bullycide." And the ultimate example of bullying is presented by the state. Bullying is in the nature of the state. And the most egregious bullying segments of the bullying state are the justice system and the education system, both of which we come into contact with on a daily basis in one context or another. How will we deal with bullies on a voluntaryist basis? Exactly as we would deal with bullies in the school yard or on the Internet. Pass them by. Construct your life as though they did not exist. Go to a different part of the school yard or the Internet. The world is big enough for people of peaceful persuasion to flourish. You can start by making sure your corner of the world is part of the solution, not part of the problem.
