

Nothing Short of Wanton Cruelty

I'm for separation of church and state, separation of school and state, separation of sports and state — hell, I'm actually for separation of human beings and state across the board.

The state poisons everything it touches, and its effect on the minds and souls of the less discerning — not to say dimwitted — people is nothing short of wanton cruelty.