

Outcasts

Nobody asked but ...

We are all outcasts of the schooling system. When you discover this, you are on your way to freedom. The other discovery that solidifies your direction is that you, and you alone, are responsible for your own education. Having discovered these two elements, you may drink from any stream.

Kilgore