

Pathological Liars

Nobody asked but ...

My second least favorite politician, a former mayor of the festering NYC, current attorney for my least favorite politician, POTUS, has been stinking up the newspace, often and potently.

In a recent instance, he took the opportunity to tell us that a former lawyer of POTUS, sometimes referred to as “The Fixer,” was a “Pathological Liar.”

Mark Twain once opined:

Suppose you were an idiot, and suppose you were a member of Congress; but I repeat myself.

I reach a similar conclusion if I refer to a lawyer as a pathological liar.
