

Putin's Plan for America II

It took roughly 24 hours for panic to spread through the newspapers and talk radio all over America. The Pentagon is already using this propaganda as a reason for "expanded U.S. missile defense policy that would address certain threats from Russia and China, departing from a previous strategy that focused nearly exclusively on rogue nations such as North Korea and Iran."

Putin's plan appears to be moving even faster than he could have predicted with the war hungry elites in Washington.
