

Radley Balko

Nobody asked but ...

When I became a true self-labelling voluntarist, one of my first favorites was Radley Balko. That was one reason I was so happy to see that Skyler Collins had posted a talk by Radley on this web site — and it is a talk on my favorite Balko topic, militarization of law enforcement.

The talk is posted under “Voluntaryist Voices” (audio).

I began to search the Web for a digital transcript, because I would like to post some direct quotes. But so far I have found a YouTube video of the same talk. Eureka! Enjoy.

I will post a link to text when and if I find it.
