

Space Farce

Nobody asked but ...

The pugnacious thug, aged 4 in boy years, that is currently posing as POTUS, has come up with another idea — weaponize space and make its purveyors a branch of the Military Industrial Complex.

And one asks, where does the human race screw up everything, everytime? Or, where did the Klingons come from?

When our technology finally gets us beyond Earth, when we have a chance to spread humanity, it will be, “shoot first and ask questions later!”

And what makes POTUS (whom I will call Mongo, henceforth) believe that there are no forces out there who have a bigger button?
