

The State's Anti-Responsibility Vortex

Written by Wrong-Opinion for FreedomFeens.com.

Is the blood of a 16 year old American boy on the hands of Obama? If not Obama, then the military commander who passed the order to a soldier? If not him, the soldier who pressed the proverbial big red button, sending a radio signal to a drone, thereby launching a Hellfire missile and snuffing out some innocent lives in a mere instant? Maybe it's the fault of the intelligence analysts who decided that a 16 year old boy was a terrorist and should be eliminated?

Are all of these people responsible for the death of Abdulrahman Al-Awlaki, the son of Anwar Al-Awlaki, the noted "terrorist" propagandist?

Perhaps none of them could be held accountable for the murder of the boy, carried out some two weeks after his father was killed in a similar manner.

Read the full thing »