

Traditional Human Wisdom of Child Development

Written by Cooper Zale for Lefty Parent.

Once the hunter-gatherer child no longer needs to “ride” and can walk and speak for themselves, they are generally granted an autonomy that a society like ours (what Diamond calls a “state society”) might well consider criminal child neglect.

Read the full thing »