

What Took So Long?

Nobody asked but ...

What are the odds ... that government would eventually discover that the constitution was just a [expletive deleted] piece of paper? The very meaning of government is that it will govern you — you will not govern it. Government is the downfall of individual competence — individual competence is the downfall of government. Stop trying to govern government; start voluntarily electing to rely on your own competence.

Kilgore