

Who Should Have Political Power?

I don't want Muslims to have political power.

I don't want black people to have political power.

I don't want women to have political power.

I don't want young people to have political power.

I don't want LGBTQXYZ3.14159... people to have political power.

I don't want Republicans, Democrats, Libertarians, socialists, or Constitutionlists to have political power.

None at all.

That's because I'm being consistent.

I don't want anyone— no groups or individuals— to have political power. That includes straight white men of any (or no) religion and of any age.

Political power is an evil thing to hold. Why would I wish that kind of evil on anyone?

You have the responsibility to not archate. That's plenty for anyone to handle.
