

Yet Another Set of 2018 Predictions

Nobody asked but ...

In the year 2018, these occurrences will prevail:

- War is still hell
- Taxation is still theft
- The state still claims collective powers that its individual members do not have
- Initiated force is still against the Non-aggression Principle (NAP)
- The Constitution will still have brought about the current state or have failed to prevent it
- Justice will still bend to convenience
